recognizing all the while we are serving you. Amen

Social Justice News

Social Justice Thought for the Week:

Focus on gratitude – give up complaining.

Become an optimist – give up pessimism.

Think kindly thoughts – give up harsh judgements.

Trust Divine Providence – give up worry.

Be full of hope- give up discouragement.

Turn to forgiveness – give up bitterness.

Return good for evil – give up hatred.

Be positive – give up negativism.

Reflect on each of these statements, in our dealings with others which is the most important.

Next meeting Wednesday, 5th June at 5pm in Parish Office. All welcome!

Winter Shelter Toowoomba is an initiative that aims to provide a safe and warm place for those experiencing homelessness during the cold winter months in Toowoomba, Queensland, Australia. Here are some key details:

1. Purpose and Affiliation:

- Winter Shelter Toowoomba is affiliated with Toowoomba Churches Care Ltd.
- The program collaborates with local churches in Toowoomba to open their buildings and offer shelter to individuals in need.
- Participants receive not only a place to stay but also hope, dignity, and community.

2. How It Works:

- Participating churches provide:
 - Beds: Comfortable sleeping arrangements.
 - Meals: Home-cooked food.
 - Community: A caring environment.
 - Support Services: Assistance in addressing life challenges and housing barriers.

If you would like to assist in any way, please collect a flyer from the foyer.

Together we can provide warmth, shelter and food for those who need help. Winter Shelter Tmba provides more than just a place to stay. It is about providing hope, dignity and community for those experiencing homelessness.

Remain In My Love

There must have been something significant in the Gospel message of last weekend that it bears repeating the same message again this week.

Jesus speaks to his disciples and tells them to “Remain in my love”.

Once again, we are taken by John’s Gospel to the intimacy of the night of the Last Supper. We can visualise the scene that evening as a circle of love, joy, friendship, mutual understanding and fruitfulness.

The scene has been described by some writers as being a realm of light set against the surrounding darkness. The same could be said of the world as we are experiencing it at this moment in time.

In the surrounding darkness we see young people committing crimes locally. We see murders and stabbings in family disputes and more recently, random attacks of violence across the nation.

In the wider world there is on-going conflict in places such as Ukraine and the Holy Land – and this past week we have seen domestic and family violence emerge as a case of ‘national emergency’.

Set against this bleak backdrop, the words of today’s Gospel seem to resonate with us, bringing some much-needed optimism to our lives. We know that it is a life-affirming world into which Jesus continues to invite us.

He would have us take it to heart and treasure it. ‘Remain in my love,’ he tells us. It is a message that many young couples who are approaching the sacrament of marriage choose to be read on their wedding day.

Their joy is made complete by remaining within the love that Jesus brings to their lives. As Paul wrote in one of his letters to the people of Phillippi: ‘fill your minds with everything that is true...

... everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honour. Then the God of peace will be with you’. A peace the world cannot give.

Scripture Readings – Sixth Sunday of Easter

First Reading – Acts 10:25-26

As Peter reached the house Cornelius went out to meet him, knelt at his feet and prostrated himself. But Peter helped him up. ‘Stand up’, Peter said ‘I am only a human being after all!’ Then Peter addressed them: ‘The truth I have now come to realise is that God does not have favourites, but that anybody of any nationality who fears God and does what is right is acceptable to him.’ While Peter was still speaking the Holy Spirit came down on all the listeners. Jewish believers who had accompanied Peter were all astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit should be poured out on the gentiles too, since they could hear them speaking strange languages and proclaiming the greatness of God. Peter then said, “Could anyone refuse the water of baptism to these people, now they have received the Holy Spirit just as much as we have?” Peter then gave orders for them to be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ. Afterwards they begged Peter to stay on for some days.

The Word of God

Responsorial Psalm – Psalm 97 Our Gods saving power has been revealed to the nations

Sing a new song to our God, who has worked wonders. God’s strong hand and holy arm have bought salvation. [R]

O God, you have made known your salvation, have shown your justice to the nations.

You have remembered your truth and love for the house of Israel. [R]

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. Shout to our God all the earth, ring out your joy. [R]

Second Reading –John 4:7-10

My dear people, let us love one another since love comes from God and everyone who loves is begotten by God and knows God. Anyone who fails to love can never have known God because God is love.

God's love for us was revealed when God sent into the world the Beloved One so that we could have life through him; this is the love I mean: not our love for God but God's love for us when God sent the beloved to be the sacrifice that takes our sins away.

The Word of God.

Gospel Acclamation –

Alleluia, alleluia!

All who love me will keep my words, and my Father will love them and we will come to them.

Alleluia!

Gospel – John 15:9-17

Jesus said to the disciples:

'As God, who sent me, has loved me, so I have loved you. Remain in my love. If you keep my commandments you will remain in my love, just as I have kept God's commandments and remain in God's love. I have told you this so that my own joy may be in you and your joy be complete.

This is my commandment: love one another, as I have loved you, We can have no greater love than to lay down our life for our friends. You are my friends, if you do what I command you.

I shall not call you servants any more, because a servant does not know the householders business; I call you friends, because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from God, who sent me. You did not choose me, no, I chose you; and I commissioned you to go out and to bear fruit, fruit that will last; and then God will give you anything you ask in my name. What I command you is to love one another.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Reflection By Pope Francis

During this Easter season, the Word of God continues to point out to us the styles of life that are consistent with being the community of the Risen One. Among these, today's Gospel presents us with Jesus' instructions: "abide in my love" (Jn 15:9): to abide in Jesus' love. To live in the flow of God's love, to take up permanent residence there, is the condition to ensure that our love does not lose its ardour and boldness along the way. Like Jesus and in him, we too must welcome with gratitude the love that comes from the Father and abide in this love, trying to avoid being separated from it by egoism and sin. It is a demanding project, but it is not impossible.

First and foremost, it is important to realize that Christ's love is not a superficial feeling, no; it is a fundamental attitude of the heart which is manifested in living as he wishes. In fact, Jesus states: "If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love" (v. 10). Love is fulfilled in everyday life, in attitudes, in deeds. Otherwise, it is only something illusory. They are words, words, words: that is not love. Love is concrete, every day. Jesus asks us to follow his commandments, which are summarized in the following: "that you love one another as I have loved you" (v. 12). How can this love which the Risen Lord gives us be shared with others? Jesus has many times pointed out to us who the "other" to love is, not with words but with actions. It is the person I encounter on the street and who, with his face and his story, challenges me; it is the one who, with his very presence, compels me to leave my interests and my certainties behind; it is he who awaits my willingness to listen and to walk a stretch of road together.

Openness towards each brother and sister, whoever they may be and whatever their situation, beginning with those who are close to me in the family, in the community, at work, at school.... In this way, if I remain united to Jesus, his love can reach the other and draw him to it, to His friendship. And this love for the other cannot be reserved for exceptional moments but must be constant in our lives. That is why we are called, for example, to safeguard the elderly like a precious treasure and with love even if they cause economic difficulties and inconveniences, but we must safeguard them. This is why we must give all the assistance possible to the sick, even in the final stages. This is why unborn children are always to be welcomed; this is why, ultimately, life is always to be protected and loved, from conception to its natural end. And this is love. We are loved by God in Jesus Christ who asks us to love one another as he loves us. But we cannot do this if we do not have his same Heart within us. The Eucharist, in which we are called to participate every Sunday, has the aim of forming the Heart of Christ within us, so that our entire life may be guided by his generous attitudes.

May the Virgin Mary help us to remain in Jesus' love and to grow in our love towards all, especially the weakest, so as to correspond fully to our Christian vocation. May our mother and the Mother of God help us to be in harmony with the Word of God, so that Christ may become light and lodestar throughout our life.

Let us entrust to her the holidays of all, so that they may be peaceful and fruitful, but above all the summer of those who cannot go on holiday due to impediments of age, to reasons of health or of work, to economic restrictions or other problems, so that it may be a time of eased tension, gladdened by the presence of friends and of happy moments.

Prayers of the Faithful – Sixth Sunday of Easter

PRESIDER: Dear friends, Jesus has taught us everything he learnt from the Father. Informed by this divine wisdom, let us pray for the whole world to live in the light of Christ.

We pray for the baptised and spirited people of God, that the vitality of their faith will attract many into the family of Jesus' disciples. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for Pope Francis and the synod secretariat, that together they will lead the church into a new and fruitful era of synodality. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for the followers of all the great world faiths, that they will stand side by side and bear united witness to the transforming power of love in our divided world. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for the people of India and other countries embarking on national elections around this time, that they will vote conscientiously for the common good. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for the young Indigenous people of this ancient land, that they will find the hope and purpose they need to overcome despair and the temptation to self-harm. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for autocrats who wield incalculable power through social media empires, that they will be held to account for enabling division, violence and falsehood. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for the millions of children who have known no other home than a refugee camp, that they will defy their disadvantage and claim the dignity that is rightly theirs ... and we pray that peace will soon reign in Ukraine, the Holy Land and all war-torn nations. Lord, hear our prayer.

We pray for those who have died recently Reg Ashford, Brian Knowles, Pearl Glasheen, and for those whose anniversary of death occurs around this time Margaret Hanna, Nita Matthew, Arthur Schneider, Eileen (Topsy) Cartwright, that they will see God face to face and live in glory for ever. Lord, hear our prayer.

PRESIDER: God of boundless love, you never cease to call us into your realm of light and life. Help us flourish there and bear good fruit for all. We ask this through Christ, our risen Lord.

LAUDATO SI' WEEK 2024

Seeds of Hope

19-26 May

Laudato Si' Week is a celebration held annually in May to mark the anniversary of Pope Francis' landmark encyclical on caring for creation. Sponsored by the Vatican's Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development, this global celebration unites Catholics to listen and respond together to the cry of creation, rejoice in the progress we have made in bringing Laudato Si' to life, and intensify our efforts through the Laudato Si' Action Platform as well as other opportunities for education and action. In Laudato Si' Week 2024, let us gather in community to contemplate the wonder of creation and nurture seeds of hope for our "suffering planet" (LD 2). Laudate Deum is a reminder about the urgency of the Laudato Si' message and the need for both personal and cultural transformation amidst our ecological and climate crises. This year's Laudato Si' Week theme is inspired by the symbol for Season of Creation 2024, "firstfruits." Let us be seeds of hope in our lives and our world, rooted in faith and love.
